Bridal Hair & Makeup Consultation

What exactly is a "consultation"?

You will discuss your makeup preferences, the style of your dress, the flowers and decor you have chosen for your event. The stylists will design a look for you, based on your individual personality and personal style. You will be able to preview your look before your wedding day to see what it looks like at different times of day, and in different types of lighting. Your personal touches, like more blush, or thicker eyeliner are noted, and the look is perfected. You will not just like, but love, your wedding day hair and makeup!

Do I need one?

Highly recommended. As for any wedding vendor, the least amount of surprises, the better. Brides who like the style they see on this website and are confident, will book first and do a trial later.

It's up to you. It's a good idea to book a trial sometime before the wedding day, either before booking the date, or after.

How far in advance should I schedule a makeup trial?

Stylists can be booked six months in advance, depending on the month. Scheduling a trial and consultation well in advance is a great idea.

How long does a makeup trial and consultation take?

Allow two hours depending on hair length and complexity of requested looks.
